2013 ANNUAL REPORT

SHELTERING WINGS
+ HAVEN • HOME • HOPE

I can do all things through him who strengthens me.

PHILIPPIANS 4:13

OUR VISION

Sheltering Wings was formed in the name and for the sake of Jesus Christ. The Center will extend the love and compassion of Christ to women and their children in the desperate circumstances of domestic violence. Christ was never coercive or offensive, and neither are the services provided by the Center. Our assistance to any victim of any background will be offered in the name of Christ.

OUR MISSION

Sheltering Wings provides emergency housing for women and children suffering from any form of domestic abuse. We build stable and independent lives through essential programs offered in a supportive and Christ-centered environment.

GUIDING PRINCIPLES

The Board of Directors, management, and all employees of Sheltering Wings operate under four guiding principles:

1. We acknowledge that God is the owner and sustainer of the shelter, and that the families we are serving are His children.
2. We rely on the Bible for guidance and direction on all matters and commit to adhering to Biblical principles when making all decisions.
3. We interact with all board members, employees, volunteers, contractors, business associates, supporters, and detractors professionally, respectfully and courteously.
4. We follow and imitate Christ's example of love and compassion in every interaction we have with those in crisis or in residence, serving them as though we are serving the Lord.

Our expansion is complete, and lives are changing

With more than three times the space, Sheltering Wings is now better equipped to serve families affected by domestic violence. Our expansion to 37,000 square feet allows us to provide housing to more women and children so we can enhance the quality of the services we offer. From a private crisis call room, to individual areas that assure the privacy of new arrivals, to spaces for support groups and training, the new space is an answer to many prayers. We now have a teen room, tutoring area, preschool classroom and a gymnasium to better serve our children.

The completion is a wonderful testament to the generosity of our community. We are blessed to be able to share success stories from our women in this Annual Report and highlight our programs and services that are making a meaningful impact. Lives are changing because of the prayers and investment of our community.

And, with this expansion, we have the potential to do even more. We hope to be able to build our staff to meet the ever growing demands. With the increase in the number of residents we need to offer additional programs to address their needs. The need is great! As long as women and children in our community live with the fear of abuse, we will need the community's support to offer safety and hope.

“Without Sheltering Wings, seriously, I wouldn’t be alive today.”

The need for our work is great

EMERGENCY SERVICES

We provide crisis intervention to women and children fleeing all forms of domestic abuse, with a focus on providing immediate safety and assessing critical needs.

Because no two situations are identical, we deliver multiple services that include 24-hour crisis call staffing, intake assessments, room assignments, complete assessments after a night of rest, and assessment of the need for children's services.

Our facility is protected by a state-of-the-art security system, with in-person and telephone access controlled by redundant safety mechanisms, and we use standardized assessments to gauge the degree of danger and best course of action.

During 2013, we answered almost 1,000 calls from families in crisis, and we provided refuge for 145 children and 118 women.

“Sheltering Wings opened it’s doors and the staff opened their hearts up to me and my son. I instantly fell in love. The staff that dedicate so much of their time here have been such an inspiration to me. They lifted me back up spiritually and emotionally and gave me the strength and motivation I needed, not only to work towards my dreams but to also keep a smile on my face.”

A FORMER RESIDENT

From the Board: A New Chapter

A board provides many services to an organization. It offers valuable guidance to the leadership, careful oversight to ensure that supporters can be confident, and an objective viewpoint when tough decisions need to be made. Most important, though, a board provides continuity. While the staff deals with the day-to-day challenges, the board can focus on the longer-term goals of ensuring that the organization serves its mission and moves toward its vision.

“I was blessed to be stranded at the shelter during the snow storm. Residents made sure that staff had good dinner to eat. I laughed and cried with the residents during my 3 nights there. And was reminded why I work there and try to show them how loved and important they are and to give them what they need—Hope.

It was meant for me to be there to give a hug, smile and to say our love goes all the way to the board that prays for the staff, residents, and children. One lady cried after hearing that the board cares so much for them.” SHELTER STAFF PERSON

Sheltering Wings began the year with an interim (but very experienced) Executive Director, April Bordeau, a beautifully expanded facility with insufficient funds to allow its full use, and an unsettled economy. The funding issues became even more complex when fighting in Washington led to the government’s sequester and eventually a complete shutdown.

The Board concentrated on completing the funding for our expansion (we’re not there yet, but much closer), finding ways to maintain our essential services, and identifying the right leader to take Sheltering Wings to the next level. We dealt with each issue within the context of our mission and vision.

As we close 2013, we’re eager for the next chapter. We’re working closely with Cassie Martin, our new Executive Director, and we’re impressed with the ideas and energy she brings to our discussions. Although the need is great, lives are changing thanks to Sheltering Wings. We know that our work must continue, and our faith remains strong and solid.

Thank you for your support throughout 2013. We look forward to working with you and our staff to continue our service to God by providing this important resource to the community.

Sincerely,

Lisa Taylor, Board Chair

LIFE SKILLS

More than 90 percent of the women who seek refuge at Sheltering Wings lack basic life and job skills needed to become economically and emotionally independent.

Once the initial crisis has passed, our case management helps every resident develop the skills and knowledge she needs to enjoy a safe, independent and successful life. We provide coordinated, comprehensive educational, vocational, psychological, and other resources tailored to each resident's needs, minimizing the potential that she will return to an abusive situation.

Progress is tracked on the Family Development Scale, a field-accepted numeric measure of family stability. In 2013 we helped 100 women and children gain independence.

CHILDREN'S SERVICES

We devote a significant amount of effort to helping the silent victims of domestic violence. In addition to addressing their immediate physical and emotional needs, we help them learn that violence and anger are not normal elements of healthy relationships, so that they may break the cycle of abuse.

Our comprehensive children's program nourishes their minds, bodies, and spirit with 24-hour crisis intervention services, support groups, and age-appropriate programs led by caring and trustworthy adults.

At any given time, two-thirds of our residents are children.

*In peace I will both lie down and sleep;
for you alone, O Lord, make me dwell
in safety.* PSALM 4:8

From the Interim Executive Director

In January 2002, I was at a retreat when my phone interrupted me with the news that Sheltering Wings had just welcomed our first resident. Then, after six years of serving as the Executive Director, God guided me in new directions, including the joy and wonder of becoming a mother.

Last year, the Board of Directors asked me to return for a few months to help them move Sheltering Wings forward. There were many challenges, including completing the occupancy of our new addition, bringing in more resources to serve our growing number of families and supporting the Board in its search for a new Executive Director.

As I turn the leadership over to that new Director, I'm proud of what our staff has been able to accomplish. Sadly, as much as we've done, the need for our services continues to grow. Each time we send a resident on to a safe, independent life, another frightened woman arrives at our doorstep. Fortunately, God continues to help those women through our outstanding staff and a host of eager, caring volunteers, all led by an amazingly dedicated and committed Board. The need for our work is great, but we are changing lives, and our work must continue.

WELCOME, CASSIE MARTIN

If you've met Cassie, you understand why the board and staff of Sheltering Wings are so excited about her arrival. She brings energy, enthusiasm, strong faith, and a powerful passion to bring an end to the cycle of abuse.

Cassie has spent more than a decade helping the Riley Children's Foundation grow, and that experience will help Sheltering Wings enhance our financial stability. She has also volunteered with the Hendricks County Community Foundation, strengthening her insight into both philanthropy and the specific challenges facing Hendricks County. I am confident that her skills, her faith, and her passion will ensure a brighter future for Sheltering Wings.

Sincerely,

April Bordeau, Interim Executive Director

Our work must continue

OUTREACH & EDUCATION

Preventing domestic violence today and in the future requires public education. In an average year, we reach 20,000 local residents through a variety of outreach programs.

Our Teen Dating Violence Program is an interactive curriculum that teaches teens how to recognize early signs of abuse, using a video, role-playing, and relevant statistics.

We bring pastors and lay leaders of dozens of churches together so they know how to respond when a member of their congregation tearfully speaks of abuse.

In-service presentations at local businesses educate employers about domestic abuse, awareness of symptoms that women are in unsafe relationships, and steps to take when abuse is suspected.

We hold a wide variety of public events each October in conjunction with Domestic Violence Prevention Awareness Month.

“I saved a resource card that I found in a restroom, and then I called the shelter when I was alone. Now I’m safe.”

God's hands: our volunteers

Throughout our history, Sheltering Wings has managed to accomplish more than shelters larger than ours, while operating on a significantly smaller budget. In large part, that's because of hundreds of volunteers who give generously of their time to serve the shelter and the women and children who find hope here.

We have a highly trained professional staff, and the willingness of volunteers means that we can focus our staff's time and energy where the need is greatest. The volunteers take care of everything else that needs to be done—from providing child care while women learn skills and look for jobs, to transporting women to interviews and appointments, to fixing residents' cars and keeping the shelter in good working order, to acting as our advocates in the community.

Sheltering Wings has many volunteer opportunities for individuals or groups. All volunteers go through an orientation program, a drug screen and background check. If you or your organization would like to help us, please contact our Volunteer Coordinator through our website at www.shelteringwings.org/volunteering.

Connected with local churches

As a Christ-centered nonprofit organization, we extend the love and compassion of Christ to women and their children in the desperate circumstances of domestic violence. Our efforts are strengthened by the many churches who are partners in our ministry to women and children.

Top 10 WAYS SHELTERING WINGS PARTNERS WITH CHURCHES

1. PRAYER PARTNERS We send regular e-mails to people and churches who promise to pray regularly for our community and Sheltering Wings.

2. CRISIS HELP When you learn that a woman in your congregation is in an unsafe relationship, we provide guidance 24 hours a day. Just call us at 745-1496 or drop by. Because no two situations are identical, we have staff with specialized training, available 24 hours a day. Standardized assessments are used to determine the level of danger and best course of action.

3. CLERGY TRAINING In October (domestic violence awareness month) training is specifically designed to help church leadership better understand how domestic violence is affecting your congregation and what you can do about it. It is taught by a pastor as a resource for other pastors.

4. SERVICE PROJECTS Our mission field is right here in your backyard, offering opportunities for an hour, half day, or full day.

5. MEMORABLE SPEAKERS When your pastor needs a break or you want a special mission project devotional for your offering, call upon our compelling, experienced speakers. They're available for Sunday morning, church breakfasts, men's and women's meetings, and for Sunday school programs.

6. YOUTH GROUPS We also have a fun workshop geared specifically for teens (and for parents) to help them recognize signs of unsafe dating relationships and learn how to build healthy relationships.

7. MEETING ROOM We can provide an offsite location for workshops, trainings, or meetings.

8. WRITTEN WORDS We can supply interesting, useful content for your weekly bulletins, newsletters, and website.

9. INFORMATION KIOSK We'll set our traveling kiosk up on your day of worship and can answer questions and provide immediate help.

10. CHURCH CONNECTION COUNCIL Domestic violence crosses all denominations, so we partner with churches from all over. Our monthly meetings allows church representatives to learn about the shelter, the community, and each other.

Businesses are a valuable ally

Like most non-profits, Sheltering Wings depends upon the generosity of local businesses that are willing to invest in our programs. But our partnership with businesses goes far beyond financial support.

It's important that employers understand the issues and challenges surrounding domestic violence, because their employees are affected. We welcome the opportunity for in-service presentations that educate employees about domestic abuse, awareness of symptoms that women are in unsafe relationships, and steps to take when abuse is suspected.

If your company is willing to partner with us, whether that's through financial support, a willingness to host an in-service, or in any other way, please contact us.

“Sheltering Wings is the primary charitable organization that we support. In addition to company donations, our employees also contribute as individuals.”

DAN BOND, PRINCIPAL,
Capstone Administrators

October 21, 2013

To Whom It May Concern:

Capstone Benefits has been a proud sponsor of the Sheltering Wings Valentine's Day Dinner Dance for the past four years. This is a fun and engaging event that brings together people throughout the community. Attendees learn about the mission of Sheltering Wings and the need for this service in our community. It is a great opportunity for us to invite both friends and clients as our guests where we can interact in a relaxed social environment, all in support of a good cause.

Sheltering Wings is the primary charitable organization that we support. In addition to company donations, our employees also contribute as individuals. Everyone within our company feels strongly about the mission of the Shelter because it literally helps our neighbors and others in our community. We also know that our contributions make a direct impact. The Shelter makes every dollar count and runs on a budget that is almost half that of similar organizations.

I highly recommend that you become a sponsor of this Sheltering Wings event. Our sponsorship has been very rewarding for everyone in, and associated with, our company. Please feel free to contact me at 317-328-7880 if you have any questions or would like to learn more about our experience with this event.

Sincerely,

Dan Bond

Principal

2013 Financial Highlights

It only costs $2,800 a day to operate our 24 hour crisis hotline (317-745-1496), provide emergency housing, facilitate life skills training and children services, and to educate the community through various workshops and trainings provided throughout the year.

We're able to keep our operating costs low for two reasons. First, we're very careful stewards of every dollar we receive and manage our finances as conservatively as possible. More important, we have been the beneficiary of strong community support. Residents, churches, businesses, and other organizations in our area have developed a great deal of trust in Sheltering Wings, and they provide for our residents' needs with generosity.

OUR PROMISE OF FINANCIAL INTEGRITY

It is important for Sheltering Wings to ensure its financial integrity is kept to the highest standards. For this reason, the Board of Directors operates according the listed financial standards.

- 1. This organization belongs to no single individual and does not exist for the promotion of any board or staff member. If God ever sees it necessary to close the doors to this work, we will accept His leading. Until then, we will devote every ounce of energy to the task at hand.
- 2. During lean times we will make our financial obligations known to our friends and other philanthropic and generous organizations.
- 3. We will never resort to misleading, deceptive, or undignified methods of fund raising.
- 4. We will modify the operations of the shelter so that its expense obligations align with its income stream.
- 5. We will not operate the shelter over any extended period of time from a deficit position.
- 6. We consider the contributions we receive to be precious—sent from people and organizations that have sacrificed to make these gifts possible. Our obligation therefore is to use the money in a responsible manner. When we make a purchase, we will pay the invoice within 30 days, if possible. We do not intend to use the vendor's money.
- 7. We will not raise more money than we need.
- 8. No board member will accept compensation for service.
- 9. We will never sell or rent our mailing list to those wishing to use the names and addresses of our supporters.
- 10. Our financial records are open to the public and will be audited annually by an independent accounting firm to assure accuracy.
- 11. No funds will be accepted that violate the mission statement of the shelter. While the shelter prefers to receive funds without a mandated purpose, those funds received with attached guidelines for usage will be honored precisely.

How you can help

As a non-profit organization, Sheltering Wings relies on the support of individuals, churches, businesses, and other organizations to accomplish our important mission. We invite you to partner with us.

TEN GREAT WAYS TO BE INVOLVED

1. Join us in our 31 days of prayer
2. Help in the office with administrative work
3. Provide child care or receive training to become an advocate
4. Invite us to your church or group to share an update
5. Organize events
6. Join in our domestic violence awareness campaign
7. Be a part of the Teen Council
8. Sponsor a room
9. Give monthly
10. Leave a legacy through estate planning

FINANCIAL SUPPORT

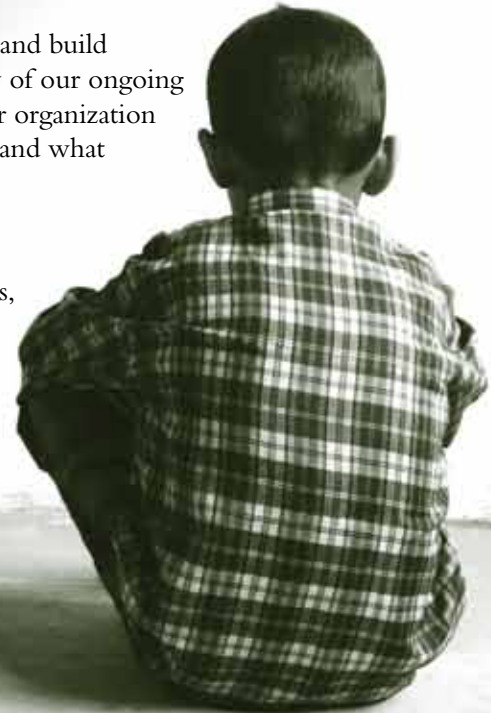

Financial contributions are extremely useful and are always welcome (plus, they may be tax-deductible). We also welcome in-kind contributions and donations of food, supplies, clothing and vehicles. We post a regular wish list on our website.

OUTREACH SUPPORT

If you would like to help us serve victims of domestic violence and build awareness in the community, we invite you to participate in any of our ongoing efforts. We would be happy to come to your church, business, or organization to build knowledge of challenges created by domestic violence and what Sheltering Wings is doing to help.

VOLUNTEER PARTICIPATION

We have many volunteer opportunities for individuals or groups, who can provide much-needed services to the shelter and our women and children. All volunteers go through an orientation program, a drug screen and background check.

Other ways to support Sheltering Wings

In addition to traditional donations of time, talent, and treasure, some people take advantage of the opportunities offered by planned giving strategies. In addition to providing significant support for Sheltering Wings, many of these strategies offer substantial tax advantages to donors and their families. Your attorney, accountant, financial planner or banker can help you determine which strategies may be right for you.

EMPLOYER MATCHING Many companies match donations made by their employees, which can double or triple the impact of your generosity. Ask your Human Resources department for information about your employer's program.

STOCK GIFTS If you own shares of stock that you no longer need, donating them to Sheltering Wings may allow you to take a substantial tax deduction.

BEQUESTS As you prepare your will, please consider designating a set amount or percentage as a bequest to Sheltering Wings. If you already have a will, ask your attorney to add a codicil that reflects your wishes.

LIFE ESTATE ARRANGEMENTS With this type of giving, you can donate your home, land or other property to Sheltering Wings, but continue to use that property for life.

INSURANCE GIFTS If your dependents are financially secure, you may not need all of your life insurance coverage. Designating Sheltering Wings as a beneficiary for part or all of your benefits—or taking out a new policy listing us as beneficiary—may offer tax advantages.

ANNUITIES Purchasing a charitable gift annuity or a lifetime annuity allows you to make a gift now, and receive an income as long as you and your beneficiaries live.

CHARITABLE REMAINDER TRUSTS This approach allows you to make a gift to Sheltering Wings and provide you and your spouse with long-term income and an immediate tax deduction. The full amount goes to Sheltering Wings when the trust period ends.

CHARITABLE LEAD TRUSTS These trusts allow Sheltering Wings to benefit from your gift for a specified period, with the assets then returning to you or your beneficiaries.

Sheltering Wings is a 501(c)3 not-for-profit organization, and donations are tax-deductible to the extent allowed by law. We cannot provide advice on tax or legal matters, and recommend that you consult with your attorney, accountant or other professional tax advisor.
